

You've Got It!

Girl Power! is a national public education program sponsored by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to promote self-confidence in young girls and help them make the most of their lives.

Presented to for

Presented by:

Date:
